Monthly Comment

THE ICE IS CRACKING – Financial markets are surrounded on three fronts, namely war in Europe, worldwide inflation and China Covid. That makes the landing strip for an economic 'soft landing' ever more difficult. The mixture of slowdown and rising rates is especially hard for Big Tech. While the sell off in risk markets is still orderly and without any panic, the Tech heavy Nasdaq lost 13% in April and is trading deep in bear market territory. Central Banks worldwide have to raise interest rates and especially the FED has a lot of balance sheet reduction to do. Economic slowdown, a rewind of efficiencies from globalisation paired with restrictive monetary policy – there haven't been many times with a worse financial environment for investors. The best thing one can say about the current market is that investor confidence is so low that a "bear market rally" will come soon with high probability. Also, there are still hopes that China will make a turn on its Zero-Covid strategy.

Fund description

The Tungsten PARITON UI strategy aims to achieve a stable absolute return by combining several different asset classes in a multi asset portfolio.

The Tungsten PARITON UI fund considers only those assets that deliver an attractive risk/return ratio. To avoid a one-sided allocation, weights to these assets are assigned using a special risk balancing method. The employment of such risk balancing promises high risk-adjusted returns (Sharpe ratios) as the aggregate portfolio risk is managed very effectively. Due to the low risk nature of certain asset classes the fund may employ leverage in order to achieve a relatively constant level of volatility. The expected return of the strategy is 3%-6% p.a. above Euribor (1m).
