Monthly Comment

RUBLE LONG, BITCOIN SHORT – No, not a trade from your PARITON Fund, which went up 3.1% in February. But it describes very well the short-term results in Financial markets of the shock and awe tactics of the new US administration. Wall Street - always a bit faster than main street – gives a first evaluation of geopolitical and economic shifts from recent news. Russian Ruble rallied more than 20% ytd on Trump's Ukraine policy, while Bitcoin dropped 25% since its January highs. Gold instead reaching new highs. Moreover we see a massive outperformance of European stocks vs US peers, led by European defense stocks. Europe has to wake up and financial markets give credit that they can implement necessary change. The financing of the final bill for that change will be interesting at best, for now leading to rising interest rates in Europe and they fall in the US. Sounds like many things are going on and finally it's time for diversified and flexible multi asset strategies. Time for PARITON.

Fund description

The Tungsten PARITON UI strategy aims to achieve a stable absolute return by combining several different asset classes in a multi asset portfolio.

The Tungsten PARITON UI fund considers only those assets that deliver an attractive risk/return ratio. To avoid a one-sided allocation, weights to these assets are assigned using a special risk balancing method. The employment of such risk balancing promises high risk-adjusted returns (Sharpe ratios) as the aggregate portfolio risk is managed very effectively. Due to the low risk nature of certain asset classes the fund may employ leverage in order to achieve a relatively constant level of volatility. The expected return of the strategy is 3%-6% p.a. above Euribor (1m).
